JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. This action arises under the patent laws of the United States, Title 35, United States Code §§1 et seq. The jurisdiction of this Court over the subject matter of this action is proper under 28 U.S.C. §§1331 and 1338(a).

8. The personal jurisdiction of this Court over defendant Acer in this case is proper because, on information and belief, Acer, through various commercial arrangements has engaged in continuous and systematic activities within the State of Texas by inter alia, placing computer products which infringe MedioStream’s patents into the stream of commerce, which stream is directed at the State of Texas, including this district, with the knowledge and/or understanding that such products would be sold in the State of Texas, including this district.

9. The personal jurisdiction of this Court over defendant Apple in this case is proper because, on information and belief, Apple, through various commercial arrangements has engaged in continuous and systematic activities within the State of Texas by inter alia, placing computer products which infringe MedioStream's patents into the stream of commerce, which stream is directed at the State of Texas, including this district, with the knowledge and/or understanding that such products would be sold in the State of Texas, including this district.

10. The personal jurisdiction of this Court over defendant Asus in this case is proper because, on information and belief, Asus, through various commercial arrangements has engaged in continuous and systematic activities within the State of Texas by inter alia, placing computer products which infringe MedioStream's patents into the stream of commerce, which stream is directed at the State of Texas, including this district, with the knowledge and/or understanding that such products would be sold in the State of Texas, including this district.

11. The personal jurisdiction of this Court over defendant Dell in this case is proper because, on information and belief, Dell, through various commercial arrangements has engaged in continuous and systematic activities within the State of Texas by inter alia, placing computer products which infringe MedioStream's patents into the stream of commerce, which stream is directed at the State of Texas, including this district, with the knowledge and/or understanding that such products would be sold in the State of Texas, including this district.

12. The personal jurisdiction of this Court over defendant Gateway in this case is proper because, on information and belief, Gateway, through various commercial arrangements has engaged in continuous and systematic activities within the State of Texas by inter alia, placing computer products which infringe MedioStream's patents into the stream of commerce, which stream is directed at the State of Texas, including this district, with the knowledge and/or understanding that such products would be sold in the State of Texas, including this district.

13. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) and (c) and 1400(b).
